Another Country tells 5 stories

1. OUR STORY: Our country and how it came to be so unequal and unjust
2. THEIR STORY: The story of 60 Black and White South Africans and the effects of the past in the present
3. TWO FICTITIOUS STORIES: To help us think about restitution (personhood, locating selves, dialogues)
4. MY STORY: With cycles of consciousness
5. OUR POTENTIAL NEW STORY: Based on dialogues and acts of social restitution by individuals and communities
It's about Restitution

1. Restitution to address our current inequality
2. Restitution that should become a part of every conversation about injustice
3. Restitution that addresses the past that remains present
4. Restitution to help us achieve the future we want
5. Social restitution as a strategic place to begin
1. Started off with conceptual ideas
2. Invited responses using stories and a labels activity
3. 60 in depth interviews - 90 minutes, 4 researchers
4. “Researching intimates”
5. Ages 21-72, across class
6. Demographically representative
Two fictitious stories

The Stolen Bicycle’ – two children, one steals the other one’s bicycle, they reconcile, what about the bicycle? about bicycles.

The Unlevel Soccer Field – is it enough to level the field, start over, level the scores, recover from playing uphill?

Cycles of consciousness (p. 93-7)
A Common Vision for South Africa

1. Where race no longer dominates
2. Where there is equal access to opportunities
3. Where we know people who are different to us and have them as neighbours
4. A country in which poverty and inequality are a dim memory of the past.
“You will no longer be able to say a Black person will be a cleaner and a White person will be the CEO... when there are Black and white people who are poor, and Black and white people who are rich”

Mbali, 28, Black woman, financial administrator

“When for the majority of the people ... poverty is not due to Apartheid ... (when a person is able to) rise out of poverty through hard work and talent... (not connections or affirmative action)”

Palesa, 22, Black woman, financial administrator
The outrage of racism

1. Demeaned and dehumanised
2. The outrage of entrenched racial inequality
3. Well-being (mental health)
4. Pervasive racism regardless of class
5. Issues of inferiority and superiority
6. Forget and bury the past
7. Lack of white consciousness
“My son is big, he’s huge...he plays rugby. I said: Punch them and I am happy to go to the office to have a chat about that. That’s when it stopped. I reflected on that and thought: ‘Gee, until today the only language racism understands is violence’. Really? (but) I’ve never been called in... Anyone who calls him a baboon or whatever, anything racist you know, he smacks them now.”

Zethu, 40, Black woman, business executive

“We have to, as black students, work twice as hard to gain half as much.”

Thamsanqa, 32, Black man, Masters student
The arrogance of White privilege

1. Awareness of privilege
2. Historical amnesia
3. Slipping in and out of consciousness.
4. Reluctance to take responsibility
5. Issues of deference and complicity
6. Anger and shame
7. Racism
8. Response to affirmative action
“Theoretically, there are equal opportunities, but not really ... I’m able to fulfil my potential in a way that other people can’t ... Let’s be honest, the White base has maintained its economic strength”

Thomas, 23, White man, Recent graduate

“I enjoy the security of an inheritance that should keep me comfortable throughout my life ... I will never know what it was like to grow up without the subtle message always given; that I was top of the pile ... one of the masters”

Heather, 38, White woman, Non-profit

“If it means this perpetrator, this man who has killed Christopher Piet, if it means he becomes human again ... so that I, so that all of us, get our humanity back ... then I agree, then I support it all... We do not want to return the evil that perpetrators committed ... We want to demonstrate humaneness towards them, so that they in turn may restore their own humanity... What I would ask is for something - a memory that will be held for them, even if it's just a crèche or a ... school that could be named after - after our children”

Nomvuyo Cynthia Ngewu, 25-year-old son shot by security police
Theory of personhood

1. Chris Smith – emergent, connected, conducive environment
2. Francis Nymanjoh – self fulfilment within a collective framework
3. Kwame Gyeke – acquired, failure possible, responsibility towards others
4. Nancy Fraser - recognition, representation, redistribution
5. Frantz Fanon – dignity, sovereignty, wealth

Legal and historical restitution

- Restoring
- Compensating/reparations
- Gain-stripping
- Acting symbolically/satisfaction
- Returning rights
- Rehabilitating
What restitution has begun?

1. Land restitution
   - Good legislation, poor implementation; ignores some

2. Employment equity and Black economic empowerment
   - Enriched a few; open to fronting and corruption

3. The Truth and Reconciliation Commission
   - Recommendations not implemented
Obstacle: Believing the TRC and ‘reconciliation’ was enough.
Obstacle: Leaving it to government (and Corruption)

Everyday SOCIAL restitution

Voluntary moral obligation (Swartz, Barkan)

Across generations (MacIntyre, Young)

As forward looking, not punitive (Calder, Wenar)

As making good Wiedergutmachung versus making right Wiederherstellen (Judt, Sanders)

Social science that makes a difference
Social restitution are voluntary acts and attitudes towards making good what our past history of injustice has damaged. It is forward-looking restitution, for individuals and communities to pursue as a moral responsibility rather than as a legal liability. It invites all parties to acknowledge the past, and to work together to repair it through symbolic and material actions. The motive is our shared humanity, and the goal is a restored personhood of all involved.
Social Restitution

1. Not as the only answer
2. But as one part of the answer
   – Government’s redress
   – People’s agitation
   – Business’s strategies
   – Communities and individuals acts and attitudes
