

March 2006

Volume 4 - No 1

RC Review - March 2006

Best hope for rural poor lies in small-scale agriculture and micro-enterprises

THIS ISSUE

Message from the CEO

New HSRC Staff

News Roundup

Communities enter the television arena

After ten years of employment equity, it's still business as usual

Small-scale agriculture and micro-enterprise remain best hope for rural poor

Challenges to meet international maths and science standards

In conversation with Ivor Chipkin: Is South Africa burning in Paris?

Moving voluntary counselling and testing to the people

New HSRC Publications

Production credits

CLICK LINKS: Production Credits | New HSRC Publications | Moving voluntary counselling and testing to the people | In conversation with Ivor Chipkin: Is South Africa burning in Paris? | Challenges to meet international maths and science standards | Small-scale agriculture and micro-enterprise remain best hope for rural poor | After ten years of employment equity, it's still business as usual | Communities enter the television arena | News Roundup | New HSRC Staff | Message from the CEO